Weekly Newsletter No 13

16.09.2022

Hello everyone,

New starters

This week, we have welcomed some more new faces to our school. A big welcome to Alex and Kayleigh who joined us on Monday. We are delighted to have you join our happy community.

Beacon

This week the children designed their very own pencil cases. These were kindly made by Miss Day's mum for the whole school. Miss Day said "All the children in our school have enjoyed decorating their very own pencil cases and are proud to be ready for lessons with their own equipment. Can I say a massive thank you to my mum who made these wonderful pencil cases for our school!"

Alfoxton

The children have settled into class really well. They have worked hard on their thoughts about Queen Elizabeth II that they have created this week. Miss Mold said, "The children are really focused on their work and have been, kindly, teaching me all about our school." Well done Alfoxton!

Triscombe

The children have settled in fantastically and have enjoyed their first weeks at Stogursey School. They are learning the routines and are adjusting really well. What a lovely group we have.

Recent Safeguarding Review

We did really well in this with the staff and children being highly praised for developing an inclusive school, having strong relationships and maintaining a culture of vigilance when it comes to the safety of children. Our attention now turns to having a full review of our online safety curriculum and processes along with some other recommendations. Your children took part in the review and they gave us some interesting points to think about. Some children commented on how it worries them that sometimes at home they are unsupervised when looking at things online. This comment by a focus group was really interesting,

"We think parents could check on us more."

One thing about our children is that they are confident to tell us their thoughts on things and their insights are so powerful. This feedback is worth all of us reflecting on.
